

WEBSITE TERMS OF SERVICE

Generic sample terms of service for an online platform - educational exercise document adapted from public-domain U.S. Government website policies (U.S. Government works are in the public domain).

1. Acceptance of Terms

By accessing or using this website and its related services (the "Service"), you agree to be bound by these Terms of Service. If you do not agree to these terms, you must not use the Service. Continued use of the Service after changes to the terms constitutes acceptance of the revised terms.

2. Eligibility and Accounts

You must be at least 13 years old to create an account on the Service. Users under 18 must have permission from a parent or legal guardian. You are responsible for keeping your account credentials confidential and for all activity that occurs under your account. You must notify the Service operator promptly of any unauthorized use of your account. The operator may suspend or delete accounts that remain inactive for more than 24 consecutive months, after sending a notice to the account's registered email address at least 30 days before deletion.

3. Changes to the Terms

The operator may modify these Terms of Service at any time. Users will be notified of material changes at least 30 days before they take effect, by email or by a prominent notice on the Service. If you do not accept the modified terms, your sole remedy is to stop using the Service and close your account before the changes take effect.

4. User Content and License

You retain ownership of the content you submit to the Service. By submitting content, you grant the operator a worldwide, non-exclusive, royalty-free license to host, store, reproduce and display that content solely for the purpose of operating and improving the Service. This license ends when you delete your content or your account, except for copies kept in routine backups, which are deleted within 90 days.

5. Prohibited Conduct

You agree not to: (a) use the Service for any unlawful purpose; (b) upload content that infringes the intellectual property rights of others; (c) attempt to gain unauthorized access to any part of the Service or its related systems; (d) distribute malware, spam or deceptive content; (e) harass, threaten or defame other users; or (f) use automated means to scrape or collect data from the Service without prior written permission.

6. Copyright Complaints

If you believe content on the Service infringes your copyright, you may send a written notice to the designated agent identified on the Service. A valid notice must identify the copyrighted work, identify the allegedly infringing material, and include your contact information and a good-faith statement. The operator will respond to valid notices within 10 business days and may remove or disable access to the identified material. Repeat infringers will have their accounts terminated.

7. Termination

You may close your account at any time from your account settings. The operator may suspend or terminate your access to the Service if you materially breach these terms, after giving you written notice describing the breach and, where the breach can be corrected, at least 14 days to correct it. The operator may terminate immediately and without prior notice in cases of serious abuse, unlawful activity, or a risk to the security of the Service or its users.

8. Disclaimers and Limitation of Liability

The Service is provided "as is" and "as available", without warranties of any kind, whether express or implied, including warranties of merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose and non-infringement. The operator does not guarantee that the Service will be uninterrupted, secure or error-free. To the maximum extent permitted by law, the operator's total liability for any claim arising out of the use of the Service is limited to the greater of the amount you paid for the Service in the 12 months before the claim, or 100 US dollars.

9. Privacy

The operator collects and processes personal data as described in the Privacy Policy, which forms part of these terms. Personal data is retained only as long as necessary for the purposes described in the Privacy Policy, and users may request a copy or the deletion of their personal data at any time through their account settings.

10. Governing Law and Disputes

These terms are governed by the laws applicable in the operator's principal place of business, without regard to conflict-of-law rules. Before starting any formal proceeding, the parties agree to try to resolve any dispute informally: you must first contact the operator's support service, and the parties will attempt in good faith to resolve the dispute within 60 days of that contact.

Document Status

This document is a generic educational sample assembled from public-domain U.S. Government website policy language. It is not legal advice and does not describe any real product or company.